HJC Student Wins Contest

Harbor College art student Patricia Pascual was named winner in a unique contest among students of Harbor College and El Camino College to submit designs for a mural to be placed in the mall in the Peninsula Shopping Center on the Palos Verdes Peninsula.

Miss Pascual, of 526 Lagoon Ave., Wilmington, whose design was chosen by famous artist Millard Sheets, now finds herself with a 40 foot wall to decorate before next June. In executing her design, an abstract representation of the Palos Verdes Peninsula, she will be aided by other art students from Harbor College. The mural will be in plastic paints.

Second place in the contest went to Carolina Bordman of El Camino. Lawrence Kay, of 1306 So. Cabrillo Ave., San Pedro, a Harbor student, was the third place winner. Miss Pascual was awarded $150 for her design while Miss Bordman and Kay received $75.

The contest was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moss of the Peninsula Center to stimulate artistic interest among the students. Art instructors for the Harbor College students are Harold Jones and Jari Havlena.

Allan Sherman Signed for 2 Southland Appearances

Concerts, Inc. has signed Allan Sherman, America's newest comic singer for two Southland appearances next month.

Sherman, who created the hilarious hit album, "My Son, The Folk Singer," which sold nearly a million copies within a few short months, is set for his one-man shows at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, Jan. 18, and Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Jan. 19.

Bespectacled and easy-going, the rotund Sherman is a former gag writer for such top comedians as Milton Berle, Steve Allen and Jackie Gleason. He is also a former producer of TV's "I've Got a Secret."

Sherman started his brilliant folk singing parodies at parties. Friends encouraged him to put them on wax, which he did with scant hope of selling a single album. Much to his surprise, the disk took off like a house afire. Millions of fellow-Americans took Sherman's "new" brand of humor to their hearts, opening up for him a highly profitable career as a performer.

In addition to doing many of the numbers from his present album, Allan will present much new material at his Santa Monica and Pasadena show. He will be backed up by The New Christy Minstrels, a fast-moving mixed voice choir.
